ITALY CELEBRATES: VATICAN IS GUARDED

ROME, Sept. 20.—Celebrations of the anniversary of the entry of the Italian troops into Rome on September 20, 1870, were held today throughout Italy, this date marking the unity of the Italian monarchy. All business was suspended and the day, as usual, is being observed as a national holiday.

In Rome the anniversary was made the occasion of a great demonstration of socialists and radicals of all kinds, who marched through the streets carrying red banners. Serious outbreaks directed against the priests were feared and troops were stationed throughout the city with orders to mete out summary punishment to disturbers.

The Pope has issued a prohibition against any members, male or female, of monastic institutions quitting their confines and appearing in public today. The king has given his personal assurance to the papal authorities that every possible precaution will be taken to protect the lives and property of the priests, and it is believed that any widespread attempt at violence can be checked by the police and troops.

All the armed men in the Vatican were detailed to watch the entrance of the apostolic palace, or to patrol the garden and court yards, considerable anxiety being felt regarding the possibility of hostile demonstrations in view of the recent displays of anti-Catholic feeling.

Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state, who is at Castle Gandolfo, was in recent telephonic communication with the Vatican, informing the Pope of the situation in various parts of Italy.

AGED WOMAN TORTURED TO DEATH BY OFFSPRING

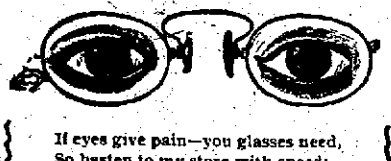

To Drive Out a Demon, Son and Daughter, Bring About Mother's End

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Letitia Greenbaugh, an aged sufferer from rheumatism, was tortured to death by her son, daughter and son-in-law yesterday to drive out a "demon," according to the son's testimony before the coroner's jury at Zion City. Her arms and legs, stiffened and distorted by years of rheumatism, were forcibly straightened, despite the sufferer's shrieks. Her torturers shouted with glee at her cries of pain, saying she was possessed of a devil who was yelling. When she could no longer speak from weakness, they twisted her neck.

STOCK IS RISING

The long expected 10 per cent dividend on Consolidated Mines stock was announced in San Francisco yesterday by Senator George S. Nixon, the Consolidated's President. Rumors to this effect have had a strong tendency to raise the price of the stock during the past three days, which has been steadily advancing, and it is expected that the long predicted $10 mark will now be reached.

JAPANESE ADULTS NOW SEEK ENTRY INTO SCHOOLS OF CHICAGO

BARRED OUT AND
CONSUL ASKS WHY

Windy City Has a Prospect of Threats from White House Soon

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—The "Japanese school situation" appeared in Chicago yesterday, lingered uncertainly for a few hours in the guise of an international complication, and then retired with a smile.

Seizaburo Shimizu, Japanese consul in Chicago, received in the morning a cabled inquiry from the Japanese government at Tokio which caused him to drop everything and start post haste for the rooms of the board of education. The text of the message was not given out, but in substance it directed that the consul make inquiries concerning "the reported barring of three Japanese residents of Chicago from the public schools of the city."

Over Age

Ehizimu called, explained his mission diplomatically, and was accompanied by the superintendent to President Schneider's office. After a brief conference the consul took his leave.

The three Japanese referred to, together with five other students, all over 21 years of age, applied for admission to the schools at the last meeting of the school board and were barred temporarily on the protest of several of the trustees and the suggestion of Attorney Shannon that the board may have no legal right to use the school funds for the education of adults. Pending the settlement of the legal question, the matter was deferred until the next meeting of the board, September 23.

One of the Japanese applied for admission to the Wendell Phillips High school, and another to the McKinley High school.

Japan Anxious

"I explained to the consul," said President Schneider, "that the State law forbids us to discriminate in any way against color—that it was purely a matter of age. The matter is coming up for further consideration at the next meeting of the board. It merely goes to show how closely the Japanese are watching things in the United States."

Shimizu looked thoughtful when he was asked as to the source of the cabled inquiry.

"Well, I will tell you," he said finally. "It was from the Japanese government. What department? Well, it was from the government. That is enough, is it not?"

"It may be," he added, with a sudden smile at the reporter who was questioning him, "that the report which reached Tokio was just the least bit exaggerated. It was a newspaper report, I understand."

CAGE DROPS AND 11 MINERS ARE KILLED

NEGAUNEE, Mich., Sept. 20.—By a cage plunging 750 feet down the shaft of the Done and Laughlin Steel mine, 11 men were killed and seven fatally injured. The cage with its human freight was being lowered on its first trip of the day when the brake suddenly failed to hold. Two other men spring to the assistance of the one at the brake wheel, but their efforts did not avail, and the wire cable continued to unravel from the drum like thread from a bobbin.

The cage shot down 200 feet before a kink in the too-rapidly paying out cable caused it to part and from that the cage had a sheer drop to the bottom of the shaft. The safety catches with which it was equipped failed to work.

ROOSEVELT STARTS ON
TRIP NEXT WEDNESDAY

Fortnight of Hunting in the Canebrake for Chief Magistrate

TO KILL GAME AND CHASE MOSQUITOES

President Will Not Return to the White House Until October 23

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 20.—Far from the scene of official routine, President Roosevelt will enjoy fourteen days "next the ground" in the northeast corner of Louisiana. He will pitch camp on or about October 5. The plans provide for a "camping trip," but every one who knows northeastern Louisiana knows that the cane brakes shelter game worthy of a huntsman of presidential calibre.

Will Start Wednesday

The President will leave Oyster Bay for Washington next Wednesday, and on the following Sunday will start on his western and southern speech-making tour. At Memphis, Tenn., on October 4, the speech-making program will be interrupted and the President will start for the camping grounds. He will break camp on October 20, going directly to Vicksburg to make his promised speech there.

The return to Washington will be begun immediately after, and the White House will be reached on the afternoon of October 23.

Who the President will be the guest while in camp of Civil Service Commissioner John A. McElhinny of New Iberia, La., and of John M. Parker of New Orleans.

A Wild Region

The region where President Roosevelt will hunt is the Bayou Macon and Tensas swamps, semitropical jungles in Madison parish, near the Mississippi river. In those swamps bear are numerous, deer abundant and smaller game, from wild cat down to squirrels innumerable.

A year ago a hunting party headed by Governor Blanchard of Louisiana killed 40 deer in this section. The swamps are the centre of a hunting ground about 75 miles long and 30 miles wide. During most of the year it is necessary for hunters in these swamps to wear nets suspended from their hats in order to protect their faces from mosquitoes. The mosquito nuisance begins to abate in October.

Uninhabited Swamps

The President will be offered an opportunity to campaign in the Louisiana canebrakes where, as far as known, no human being has ever made a permanent habitation. The cane grows to a height of ten to 15 feet and in the autumn is blown into low windows, leaving some open alleys between. It is necessary to cut trails across the windrows for the passage of the dogs.

The hunting will probably be done entirely on horseback. In order to proceed quickly through thickets each huntsman must carry a double-edged knife with a straight blade nearly a foot long and heavy enough to chop a passage through vines and other obstructions.

ROCKEFELLER'S STOCK WORTH $109,000,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Record of the stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, laid bare today at the hearing of the government's suit for the dissolution of the oil combine, disclosed the fact that John D. Rockefeller owns 247,690 shares, or nearly five times as much stock as any other individual shareholder, and that he and his associates who signed the Trust agreement in 1882 still control a majority of the stock.

Measured by the present market price of $440 a share the holdings of Mr. Rockefeller in the Standard Oil Company have a value of $109,000,000. The stockholders record of August 17, 1907, shows that the University of Chicago is the owner of 5000 shares of Standard Oil stock.

New Torpedo Boat Destroyers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Secretary Metcalf today awarded the contract for the construction of five torpedo boat destroyers, provision for which was made by the last congress, and bids for which were opened at the Navy Department about a month ago. The following were the successful bidders: William Cramp & Sons, two ships at $585,000 each. The Bath Iron Works, two ships at $624,000 each. The New York Shipbuilding Company, one ship at $645,000.

TWELVE MEN ARE OBTAINED TO TRY TIRED L. FORD

JURY PUT IN HANDS
OF POLICE CHIEF

Charge of Bribery Against Former State Senator from Plumas County

EX-ATTORNEY-GENERAL OF CALIFORNIA'S CASE

Actual Taking of Evidence Will Begin on Monday at the Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—The bribery trial of Chief Counsel Tired L. Ford, of the United Railroads will be begun in earnest next Monday afternoon with the first introduction of evidence by the prosecution. The jury was completed at 4:40 o'clock this afternoon. The following men compose the trial panel:

Edward W. Bender, publisher of law books.

Neils C. Mortensen, contractor.

Oscar Gorgeson, insurance agent.

Florence Driscoll, plumber.

John Olsen, shipping agent.

Frederick M. Morcom, art dealer.

Arthur W. Johnson, grocer.

Daniel Kelly, insurance agent.

Charles W. Gould, manufacturer's agent.

John G. Chase, Jr., contractor.

George Gohler, gracer.

Two of these 12, Mortensen and Strange, were members of the jury which convicted Vice-President Louis Glass of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company of the bribery of Supervisor Thomas F. Loneragan, in the interest of the corporation named.

The Accusation

Ford is on trial for the bribery of Loneragan in the interest of the United Railroads, it being charged that on the 19th of May, 1906, he paid, or aided and abetted in the payment of $4,000 to Loneragan as the price of his vote in favor of an ordinance empowering the street car company to electrify its cable lines throughout San Francisco city and county.

The 12 men sat for photographs for the newspapers and then were taken to the Fairmount Hotel, where they will be quartered until they have passed upon the guilt of the accused man or confessed their inability to reach a verdict.

Excused for a Wedding

Before being taken from the courtroom for the wedding, the court of a wedding to be celebrated in his family tonight and asked for permission to attend it in charge of one of the brides. It was granted and Deputy Sheriff Ryan was delegated to the wedding.

Judge Lawlor announced that owing to the smallness of the force of deputies at Sheriff O'Neill's command, the court had requested Chief of Police Biggy to detail a number of blue-coats to assist in the preservation of order throughout the trial, which is expected, will be attended by big crowds.

CONSTANTINE TO KNOW HIS FATE TOMORROW

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—The trial of Frank J. Constantine for the murder of Mrs. Gentry last January entered upon its final stage tonight at an extra session of the court and the case will probably reach the jury tomorrow. The taking of testimony was completed during the afternoon, the chief witness put forward by the defense having been Constantine himself and the State at once began the closing arguments.

Assistant State's Attorney Edward Day in summing the evidence denounced the defendant for an attack made by him upon the character of Mrs. Gentry. He described the bloodstains found in the Gentry flat and asserted they were sufficient to discredit Constantine's story of suicide.

DANCE HALLS CLOSE AT DAWSON; ALL GONE

Women from the Alaskan Tenderloin Are Flocking Into Seattle by the Steamers

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 20.—Dozens of dancing girls, variety artists and musicians, thrown out of employment by the act of the Dawson legislature abolishing music halls, are arriving in Seattle from Dawson and other places in the Yukon. During the palmy days of the gold country the proprietors of dancing halls and burlesque theatres reaped harvests and hundreds of stage folks were attracted to Alaska by the high salaries offered. Nearly all of these were thrown out of employment by the new law, and many are still stranded in Dawson.

ATTORNEYS READY TO SCRAP IN GOLDFIELD COURT

CAMPBELL OBJECTS TO APPEARANCE OF MACK

Reno Lawyer-Says He Appears for State in Prosecution of Manager Hedden

ULTERIOR MOTIVES ARE IMPUTED; LIE PASSES

Exciting Scene Before Grand Jury Over Prosecution of Perjury Charges

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Sept. 20.—"I am the regularly appointed sworn district attorney of this county. I appear before the grand jury with no ulterior motives. I am here for the purpose of prosecuting Mr. Hedden on a charge of perjury and we have the evidence now to show that he is guilty of that crime," said Deputy District Attorney C. E. Mack yesterday afternoon in Judge Langan's court, in replying to J. C. Campbell, of the firm of Watson & Campbell, of San Francisco, attorney for General Superintendent J. F. Hedden of the Goldfield & Tonopah railroad, who objected to Judge Mack appearing before the grand jury.

As soon as the roll of the grand jury yesterday afternoon, Mr. Campbell arose and made vigorous objection to the appearance of Mr. Mack before the grand jury on the ground that he "appears from ulterior motives."

Ultior Motives Charged

"If your honor please," Mr. Campbell said, "representing a person whose witnesses have been summoned to appear before the grand jury, I desire to call the court's attention to the fact of the objection of the defendant, Hedden, to allowing a special prosecutor of the name of C. E. Mack to appear before this grand jury, for the reason that he appears from ulterior motives and for purposes which are not such as lawfully justify his appearance before the grand jury for the purpose of collecting taxes, and is attempting to use the criminal arm of the law for the purpose of collecting money. I desire now, in order that there may not be any question of that kind arise, to register and enter this objection to a so-called assistant district attorney appearing before the grand jury, with the intent—in relation to the question of Mr. Hedden's appearance."

His Word Alone

"May it please the court," Judge Mack replied, "I am the regularly appointed, sworn deputy district attorney of this county. I appear before the grand jury with no ulterior motives and the statement made by counsel is unsupported save by his word, which is no better than mine, so far as that is concerned."

"If your honor please," Mr. Campbell replied, "the only statement I have is—this man made it in the supreme court of this state, that if this company would pay its taxes—he made it before your honor, too—he would see that any charge against Mr. Hedden was dismissed. Now you take whichever statement he says to be true, one or the other, he either tells that which was false before the supreme court, or he tells it here. I object, if your honor please, to any special prosecutor, and I invoke your honor's authority, which you have in a civil case, I object to this man going before the grand jury and using the criminal arm of the law to attempt to collect a civil debt and that is what this man is attempting to do."

Not Trying to Intimidate

"May it please the court," Judge Mack replied, "we are not trying to intimidate anybody; never had any such thought in my mind; I am simply investigating a criminal charge, which is legitimate. If the gentleman is not guilty, there will be no indictment and no trouble. If he is guilty, that will be a question for the grand jury."

Judge Langan brought the discussion to an end by saying: "No doubt the grand jury will investigate the matter of whether Special Prosecutor Mack has any ulterior motive."

An Old Tax Suit

The above discussion arose in connection with the long standing difficulty between Esmeralda county and the Tonopah and Goldfield Railroad, over the payment of taxes on the railroad property in the county during 1905 and 1906, which led to suits being entered by the county against the railroad, which difficulty is not yet settled.

Growing out of this difficulty, the charge was made that General Superintendent Hedden filed with the county assessor September 10 and 22, 1906, a sworn statement of railroad property in this county that omitted a large part of the railroad property. When counsel for the county held an

"I'M GOING TO MA" WROTE AGED COATS AND SHOT HIMSELF

After writing a pathetic farewell note to his son, telling of his intention to end his life, and giving a few directions concerning his funeral arrangements, and naming his bearers, M. T. Coats, yesterday afternoon killed himself on the grave of his wife in Hillside cemetery, where his body, still warm, was found by his son, K. J. Coats, at dusk, last night.

On His Wife's Grave Dies of Self-Inflicted Wound a Pioneer of This Coast

I Would Not Live A Day;
I Care Not to Stay,
Was Parting Message
To His Boy

Laid Flowers on Life- Partner's Last Resting Place; Then Pressed The Trigger

One of the most pathetic deaths to be recorded in Reno was the one that took place in the Hillside cemetery late yesterday afternoon, when M. T. Coats lay quietly down on the grave of his wife and sent a bullet into his brain, ending his life instantly. The aged man has been failing for a long time past, and had nearly lost his sight, which, coupled with the death of his daughter, Hetty, last January, is thought to have led to his final act of self-destruction. His preparations for death were deliberate, and showed clearly that it was a matter which he had carefully considered and planned, and that he had had the intention in mind for some time.

Decorated Wife's Grave

Yesterday afternoon he went to the home of his sister, Mrs. Ida Maltby, and asked for some flowers, saying he was going to the cemetery to place them on the grave of his wife. He was given the flowers, which he took to the grave where his wife was buried nearly 20 years ago, where he placed them according to his expressed intention, after which he went carefully and methodically about the more serious business that had brought him there.

Carefully removing his shoes, with the inborn repugnance all pioneers have to going to their final account with their shoes on, he tied them together, with the laces, and placing them at a little distance from the grave, together with his hat and cane, he returned to the grave, placed a sheet of paper on the sand of the silent mound, and lay down, placing his head upon the paper. Then, raising the 22-calibre revolver to his right temple he fired the fatal shot from the effects of which he died, apparently without a twinge of conscious pain, as the features were perfectly calm, and the body resting as if he were asleep.

"Going Home to Ma"

In his father's room, his son, K. J. Coats, when he returned from work yesterday, found a note tucked in one corner of the small mirror, enclosed in an envelope, written upon the outside of which was the following:

"I have gone to the cemetery—Going home to ma."

Inclosed in the envelope was a double sheet of paper written upon which, in an uncertain, wavering hand, appeared the following last message:

"I would not live always—I care not to stay."

"Sept. 20, 1907."

"My Dear Boy,"

"Kansas, J. W. Coats."

"You cannot do anything more for your father. Lay me to rest by my angel; by the side of your mother."

"I cannot see to write to Schuyler and my brother."

"Fall-brothers—Mr. Kinney, Mr. Upson, A. M. Lamm, H. Stephens, D. Huffaker and Orval Sessions."

On the reverse side of the sheet was written the following:

"Take good care of my kiddy, and see that she has a warm bed in winter."

"YOUR FATHER."

Upon finding the message the son, K. J. Coats, was at once filled with alarm for the safety of his father, and mounting a wheel hurried to the cemetery, where, upon the grave of his mother, he found the body of his father, dead, although the last vestige of life had departed but a short time, as the body was still warm.

M. T. Coats—"Mark Coats" as his friends were wont to address him—was one of the best known of Nevada pioneers, whose varied ranks are almost daily thinned by the calling of the great roll. He was born in Sussex county, New Jersey, March 28, 1833, and was 74 years old.

He was one of the argonauts who

IS THE JUDGE IN CONTEMPT?

Proceedings in Case of Lander County Jurist Exig General Interest Among Lawyers.

WHAT ATTORNEY-GENERAL SAID

Breen to Preside in Local District Court on Monday in the Clow Case

Because of the fact that Judge Pike and Judge Orr of this district are both disqualified to sit in judgment in the case of Grace Clow against her uncle, Bernard Clow's executor, Judge Peter Breen of the third judicial district will occupy the bench during the trial of this case.

Judge Breen Here Monday

Mention has been made in these columns before of the matter in controversy in this case. It is an effort on the part of Grace Clow, the niece of Barney Clow, deceased, to have his executor fulfill an agreement made by him that she should be given the Clow ranch, provided she took care of his household during his lifetime. This agreement Mr. Clow failed to execute and died leaving his part of the contract unfulfilled and the plaintiff in this action seeks to force the executor to complete the bargain.

Considerable interest has attached to the personality of Judge Breen since his reported prospective citation by the supreme court to answer for certain remarks which he caused to be incorporated on the records of his court with reference to the manner in which the upper court arrived at its decision in the Patsy Dwyer murder case, which it remanded for new trial with instructions to grant a change of venue from Lander county if requested.

Supreme Court's Action

Judge Breen continues properly silent on the subject, but among the attorneys of Reno the caustic criticism indulged in by the Judge has aroused widespread interest and some look with anticipation of a determined issue to be raised by Judge Breen with the supreme court as to the propriety of the citation.

There is considerable privilege surrounding every judge of a court of record, the lawyers say, in matters pertaining to his own record, as he is the jealous guardian of its integrity at all times, particularly when it is being made. After the record is certified up to the appellate court, or so much of it as is incorporated into the bill of exceptions (which in most jurisdictions is signed by the judge below), the interest of the judge in the lower court ordinarily ends.

In this case however, Judge Breen has evidently taken it as a part of his prerogative to take judicial notice of what he characterizes as an unwarranted assumption by the supreme court of a matter of fact or pleading not justified by his record and upon which the supreme court has based in a large measure its grounds for remanding the case for retrial.

The supreme court, as stated in The Journal yesterday will pass upon the matter of whether Judge Breen shall or shall not be cited for contempt with District Attorney Maestretti, the matter coming up Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

It has been stated that Attorney General Stoddard said Judge Breen would be "punished for contempt." He was asked about this last night.

"Of course, I never said that," he said. "What I did say was that a citation for contempt might be issued by the court, which is a very different thing. I was probably misunderstood."

HOW THE JOURNAL CONTEST IS GOING IN THE SEVERAL NEVADA DISTRICTS

The contest is assuming fairer proportions each day and a good, steady stream of votes is pouring into the office daily.

Help some lady along in the contest while there is time and opportunity. A little help now will be worth much before the contest is over. Any number of fair, bright ladies are entered in the contest and each one is anxious to win a prize and any one of them will appreciate the votes accorded a year's subscription.

Many changes in the positions of the contestants were made today and the voting in all the districts is very heavy. Miss Dornio has made very rapid progress lately and is closely followed by Miss Blanche Cozzens who has made a remarkable jump from tenth to second place by polling a large vote today. Miss Dottie Tunney stands third with 17,229 votes today and has also made rapid strides toward the head of the list.

As usual many changes have been made in District No. 2 and the voting runs the highest here. Mrs. O'Rourke who has held first place for some time drops down behind Miss Helen Pierson, who although the latest entry in this district, is making very rapid progress and now leads with 51,065 votes credited to her. Mrs. O'Rourke follows today in second place with 48,611 votes and Mrs. H. S. Ramsey third with 41,277 votes. There are many contestants entered from here who have an eye on the first prize and the race for first honors will be warmly contested at the finish.

District No. 4 seems to be coming to the front rapidly and the contestants entered from here are expected to be heard from with some heavy voting within a short while. Miss Emma Larson has continued to hold first place against her opponents for several days and now has a total of 17,912 votes credited to her while Miss Ruby Hansen of Genoa is following her closely with 16,075 votes and Miss Lois Holland of Yerington stand third with 15,257.

In District No. 5 there seem to be quite a few contestants striving for first place but none of them succeed in holding that coveted position for more than a day at a time. Today Miss Annie Kearney of Carson leads having polled 13,328 votes and Mrs. W. C. Driver of Bishop follows with 13,370 votes and Mrs. George Money of Carson third with 12,750 votes.

In District No. 6 Miss Mabel Culbert continues to lead having a credit of 17,217 votes and is working industriously for more while Miss Hazel Weaver is a close second of hers with 15,116 votes and Miss Mary Warren is steadily increasing her standing and now has 15,211 votes which shows that she has an eye on the first place in this district and does not mean to be left too far behind.

Miss Veronica Leechy of Reese River leads District No. 7 with a good majority having 14,999 votes according to today's count while Mrs. Munn of Tonopah second with 12,612 votes and Miss Louise Parker who is a late entry steps from seventh to third place and already stands credited with 12,512 votes.

District No. 9 is coming to the front and promises to be among the leaders before the contest closes. There are some very earnest workers entered from this district who promise to make a strong fight for the prizes. Miss Edna Parvance of Lovelock leads today having cast 16,229 votes and Mrs. W. H. Cooper of Maxima follows in second place with 15,083 votes while Miss Anna Schmidt of Winnemucca stands third with 14,281 votes to her credit.

Miss Edith Swick of Eureka leads in District No. 10 today with 16,427 votes and Miss Margaret Dron of Austin follows with 10,222 votes having jumped from the bottom of the list to second place and Miss Bessie Allen stands third with 10,000 votes.

District No. 11 is also waking up and putting forth some energetic contestants. Miss Kate Thompson of Elko makes quite a jump from fourth place to first and stands with 20,289 votes to her credit. Miss Hattie Oldfield of Ely comes second having cast 16,298 votes and Miss Adolphine Flinch of Wells stands third with 14,276 votes. The voting in all the districts seems about equally divided so far and as yet no one district seems to have the best of the race and great surprises are expected daily from all of the districts in the way of heavy voting.

NATURE'S WARNING

Reno People must Recognize and Heed It

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously. But nature always warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—If there are settlements and sediments, Passages frequent, scanty, painful. It's time then to use Doan's Kidney Pills.

To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes.

Mrs. W. N. Evans, living on East Telegraph St., Carson City, Nev., says: "My little daughter used Doan's Kidney Pills for an aggravated kidney weakness and the results that followed their use were most satisfactory. She seemed to have no control over the kidney secretions, and as a result of long suffering from this trouble, her health became run down and she became thin and puny, and unlike other children, I was finally advised to give her Doan's Kidney Pills and procure a box. She seemed to gain control over the secretions at once. I was very much encouraged and had her continue taking the remedy until she was completely cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Young Girl, Fearing Arrest, Wildly Swallows Deadly Drug; Saved With Difficulty

IS RECOGNIZED BY DETECTIVE

A pretty young girl leaving home, tracked by a private detective after a long search and finally taking poison to end all troubles, is the story briefly told of a resident of this city, culminating last night in the restoration of the young woman to life.

Miss Grace Appleton, 19 years of age, residing with her parents and brothers and sisters until recently in San Francisco, all of whom occupy an active place in the refined social life of the Bay City, left her home to find genteel occupation elsewhere and took out for herself. Hearing of the busy life of Reno she purchased a ticket direct for this city, arriving here several days ago and registered at a hotel.

Recognized By Father's Friend.

Miss Appleton had been here but a few days when she recognized on the street an old visitor at her San Francisco home, who has been in the special detective work for several years, and frequently visited her father. After following the girl away, the detective approached her and endeavored to persuade her to return to her home, but his entreaties were unavailing. He then resorted to threats of arrest upon the ground of her being so young, but she headed off any further effort on his part by claiming that she had married a Californian in Salt Lake City, and that he could confirm her statements by going to an address which she gave him in that city.

Detective Leaves

The detective departed on the train night before last, when Miss Appleton, frightfully agitated and nervous over the occurrence, retired to her room and taking a phial of morphine of which she had secured for the purpose, drained its contents and fell over on the bed.

The door was left ajar and fortunately a passer along the hallway noticed what appeared strange and approached the unconscious lady. Restoratives were quickly obtained and used until a physician arrived who worked over the girl until daylight yesterday morning, when the first evidences of life made their appearance. Last night the young woman was reported to be much improved and is out of danger.

Didn't Want to Die

Miss Appleton, when seen by a Journal man yesterday stated that she could not tell why she attempted suicide, except that she was so nervously excited over the preceding occurrences that she evidently didn't know the seriousness of what she did. When she was asked as soon as she revived:

"Did you want to die?" she replied: "No; I guess I was crazy or excited."

Mr. Hedden refused on the ground that he might incriminate himself.

ACCUSED OF CAUSING DERAILMENT OF CARS

While shunting some freight cars on the tracks just below town near the stockyards late yesterday afternoon, two cars got derailed. On investigation the train crew discovered that the switch had swung open and they thought it had been tampered with. Noticing an individual loitering nearby, they called Officers Armstrong and Devenenzani and had him arrested. At the station he gave the name of W. T. Green, and stoutly maintained his innocence.

He is a stranger here, and says he is on his way to Portland, Oregon, and had a valise and lunch box, with a check for a trunk which had been checked through from the East. He had been drinking some but talked rationally and the officers think if he did tamper with the switch, he did not know what he was doing. He is held at the station pending an investigation by the Southern Pacific officials.

Crim wop when told at the station why he had been arrested.

Caught Red Handed

Joe Bryan, a youth whom the police think is none too sound, mentally, was arrested by Captain Cadle at the merry-go-round last night, and booked on a charge of selling liquor to the Indians. At the time of his arrest he had just passed a bottle of whiskey to an Indian, who said he received it from Bryan.

Deputy State Superintendent John Edwards Bray Discusses His Plan of Inspection

The effects of the new organization act, relating to public schools in Nevada, will soon become apparent in all districts of the State. This act was passed last March and went into effective operation September 1. John Edwards Bray, who for 13 years was superintendent of city schools in Reno, and who is the deputy State superintendent of education for this district, is now busily engaged in compiling and arranging all available statistics relating to the public schools in Washoe, Storey, Lyon, Douglas, Ormsby and Esmeralda counties preparatory to making his first official tour of inspection of the schools in these counties, which compose the fourth of the five districts created by the new school law.

Bray's Inspection

When seen at the district attorney's office yesterday afternoon, Mr. Bray stated that he expected to commence his official inspection which will include a general survey of educational conditions, attendance course of study and school accounts, some time next week. The territory assigned to Mr. Bray is State-wide in extent, almost, and embraces the greatest centers of population and the most advanced school districts.

Mr. Bray stated further that it was the intention of the State board to compile a complete course of study State, something which has not been done for many years past. The matter of text books will be in the hands of the text book commission which has sole charge of the question of determining what books shall be used in the schools.

To Advance Standard

"In this work as laid out before us," said Mr. Bray, "it will be our endeavor to do everything in our power to advance the standard of the public schools. No concerted effort to make the course of study uniform has been quite practicable up to this time, but now with a general plan of supervision involving the visiting of all the schools in the State at least twice a year, much good is anticipated. In this district I hope to receive the co-operation of teachers and parents so that the school work may proceed harmoniously and profitably."

Up to September 1 the district attorneys in the various counties were ex-officio superintendents of schools, and upon them devolved the labor of attending to the distribution of the school funds and general supervision of the school system and teachers. This work will now be taken over by the deputy superintendents and District Attorney Moran is duly grateful for his release from this portion of his work, as his office has work enough in the strictly legal lines to keep both Mr. Moran and his assistant, Judge Glenn, busy early and late.

VARSITY RALLY HUGE SUCCESS

College Yells are Given With Enthusiasm by Students; Speeches Delivered by Educators

INTEREST IN SPORT ALIVE

Great Outburst of Spirit Makes Night Memorable in History of School

Anybody who says there is no college spirit at the University of Nevada, and who will put their ear to the ground, even at this late hour, will doubtless come out with an apology to the student and enthusiastic classmen and the equally strenuous and vociferous co-eds whose college yells and battle cries are yet reverberating and re-echoing from College Hill to the Truckee and back again.

For the old grads and the near-grads and those who looked on the reluctant years to the time when graduation honors would be for them and everybody was in good voice; everybody inhaled the salubrious autumn air and everybody with one accord let out a yell that may have set the mountains rocking and may have inspired into the minds of those who dwell at Berkeley the awful thought that another earthquake was upon them.

Class Spirit—My!

Talk about class spirit. There was an overproduction. They sang songs and the band played. It played those old tunes which all the former football gladiators remembered as having rung in their ears and spurred the men to many a victory on the gridiron. They yelled the old yells that seem to mean so little and yet mean so much, when comes the last down in the last five minutes and you more yard to gain into the enemy's country and to a coveted score. The spirit of the place, that feeling akin to love of country, that lesser patriotism, the filial love for alma mater spoke in those concerted tones, and shone in every eager eye.

It was just a rally—a college rally, the first of the year. It was not hard to infuse spirit into the assemblage, it only required the giving of proper direction and order to the celebration. Sol Levy was there, quite an old boy, who frequently forgets that he has grown some in the last few years. Dr. Stubbs was there and he took notice of how the youngsters sang and Will Reinken was there to lend in the noise. The band is always the old band, though it is of practically new membership now, and there were the same old tunes and the same good music.

It was all in and about the main hall inside and on the porch.

What Was Done

Prof. Minor gave a good rousing talk, Prof. J. Edwards Bray followed with an equally inspiring address, and Rev. Mears told a good story and urged the college men and women on to conquer new worlds.

"Cheese" Hart, whose right name is Chester, and who is an old "grad," also dispensed cheerful advice and he was given an ovation. It was one wild delicious night of vocal fireworks and whenever there was nothing else to do a new variety of yell was uncoiled and let loose to shatter the shivering sky.

Today there will be a practice game between the Sophs and Seniors against the Juniors and Freshmen. Coach Cameron will hang up a 5-dollar piece for the kickers to punt for.

VICIOUS DOG ATTACKS BABY

Child of Three Severely Bitten By Savage Brute; Will Be Disfigured for Life

SIGNS OF RABIES SOUGHT

Wandering Animal Without Warning Springs on Little Girl; Horrified Mother Screams for Help

Sitting out in the front yard, rocking her dolly to sleep in the sun, within sight and call of her mother, Mrs. J. P. Ford at 454 North Virginia street, and apparently as safe as any child of three might be under such circumstances, little Margaret Ford was yesterday afternoon attacked by a savage dog and in all probability the beauty of her face will be marred for life by the effects of the cruel fangs of the vicious animal.

Her mother's attention was aroused by little Margaret's screams and she ran terror-stricken at the sight to her child's rescue. A passerby hurried across the street and drove the dog away but too late to prevent him from tearing the little girl's face fearfully, leaving the flesh of the cheek hanging loose and completely bitten through so as to require seven stitches to be made by Dr. Ritchie to bring the severed and lacerated edges of the wound together.

Jack Ford the father of the injured child immediately started in search of the dog which was described as a coach dog and finding it shot at the animal from a distance wounding it. The owner of the dog expressed deep regret at the occurrence and suggested that the animal be killed but this was not done in order that a sample of the blood might be taken under circumstances which would permit an examination to determine whether any germs or rabies were present so as to enable prompt steps to be taken to prevent the manifestation of hydrophobia in the child. An examination will be made immediately and at all events the animal, which is not known to have ever shown a vicious disposition before, will be shot.

Mrs. Ford was prostrated by the accident and her condition became so serious that another visit was necessary from the physician.

Mr. Ford works down town at the Louvre and is well known.

LADIES' SOCIETIES AT WORK

Rev. C. L. Mears Has Already Heard From 60 of the Expected Visitors

The ladies of the Congregational church are busy arranging for the entertainment of the delegates to the general convention of the churches of their denomination, which will be held here the first week in next month. Yesterday the St. Margaret's Society met at the residence of Miss Nellie Haymers and talked over plans, and the day before the Ladies' Aid met at the Scott home and made their arrangements.

The work is progressing rapidly and there is no doubt that the delegates, who will come from the principal churches in California and Nevada, over 200 congregations being represented, will be cured for in a manner befitting the real importance of the occasion.

Up to date, Rev. C. L. Mears said yesterday, he has received letters from 60 delegates who announce that they are coming. There will be in the neighborhood of 200 or 250 people in all, if not more.

The Nevada Commercial League has taken hold and will assist in raising funds for the entertainment of the guests and it is expected that the city council will act at its next meeting.

The Freight Sheds Again

District Freight and Passenger Agent Clapp of the Southern Pacific Company is quoted in our evening contemporary as saying that he believes the new freight sheds will be built soon.

We hope his faith is going to be rewarded by the fact for there is no man in Reno who is working harder for the town and for the State than the representative of the Southern Pacific Company. Perhaps, if the general officers of the company were on the ground they would work as hard for us as Mr. Clapp does, but there is no "perhaps" about the fact that, if he were in their place, he would see that new depot built, those freight sheds constructed and a lot of other improvements made, in a jiffy.

The fact is, The Journal is not blaming him for the delay, nor is it saying a word against the Southern Pacific. Why the freight sheds have not been built is easily explained. The Southern Pacific Company, a corporation, has changes in its official staff, as is a habit of corporations. Last spring, or thereabouts, there was a new man, and the other day he was transferred to another sphere, so to speak, and a man took his place who had to look over the ground. He has looked and he knows what should be done. In the natural course of events, if there is not another shake-up in the Southern Pacific offices too soon, he will have the improvements made as planned.

All we can do is hope that Mr. Harriman will not become dissatisfied. If he leaves his men alone, Reno may be happy yet.

PUBLIC OPINION

Incivility and Uniforms
(New York American)

The commandant at West Point is endeavoring to instill principles of civility in the minds of the cadets under his care is doing the country a really valuable service. For some reason which no psychologist has yet explained, rudeness goes with uniforms. From steamship captains, messenger boys, the gentlemen who advertise painless dentists and army officers, we have come to expect brusque and unceremonious answers to our questions or salutations. In his communication with the general public the army officer is particularly likely to be haughty. Why, we cannot tell. The profession of war is stern, of course, but that would seem to be all the more reason for gentleness in its follower when not actually "on the job." He has no need to regard the general public as the enemy, or even as an enlisted man, and there is, consequently, no apparent reason for his high and mighty demeanor. Yet it exists, as it exists in all who wear the brass buttons, and if the commandant of the Military Academy can break the cadets of the habit of "looking down on his fellow-men," it will be worth while to send all others in uniform to West Point for a special course in politeness.

Formosa, Japan's First Colony

(Chicago Journal)
Japan's first attempt at colonization in the Island of Formosa, which she acquired after the Chino-Japanese war, has now gone far enough to enable the world to estimate its value. The island, whose area is about one-third that of Cuba, has now been in her possession for nearly 13 years, and it has been ruled by a governor-general operating under the direction of the imperial government's minister of the interior.

Judging from the facts presented by Seihi Hishida in the Political Science Quarterly, Japan has been as successful in this colony as she has been in directing her own affairs in war and peace. A judiciary has been established on the basis of Japanese law, and is being well administered. In the first year of Japanese occupation, the total revenue of the island was 3,652,000 yen, of which 6,940,000 yen were contributed by the imperial government. Last year the revenue was 25,364,000 yen, all of it furnished by the island, Japan not having to provide any money. A national bank has grown enormously and the coinage system has been put on a gold basis.

In sanitary administration Japanese progress has been remarkable. Malaria, black fever and smallpox, in Chinese times fatal and continuous, have been wiped out, sewerage has been provided for the cities, which also have now pure drinking water. Free public schools have been established, and last year 23,346 pupils were enrolled. Highways have been constructed all over the island, 251 miles of railroad have been built, and the government maintains 121 post-offices, 3300 miles of telegraph and 1500 miles of telephone. Two submarine cables connect Formosa with Japan and China.

SAGEBRUSH NOTES

The editor of the Western Publisher says: "Give me a man who has enemies." All right, old man, come around and get him when it's convenient.

"What would you do," asks the Goldfield Tribune, "if you were called upon to act as valet to a colored woman, in the discharge of a duty?" Quit the job.

The Evening Gazette accuses French women of fashion of carrying "women poodles." Oh, say, really now, don't you think that is going a little strong?

According to the Ely Express, P. W. Bennett is charged with stealing a trunk and about all the clothes possessed by O. H. Fitzgerald, while the latter was asleep. It's a wonder he didn't take the bed.

"Are municipal ideas alone unattainable?" tearfully asks the Goldfield Tribune. It is barely possible that they are, still it has never been asserted that the chasing of municipal ideas was the sole reason for insanity, and there are many asylums well filled with those who failed to attain, and keep their ideas.

U. F. Bartine is at much pains to explain, through the columns of the Carson News, that the articles recently published in the News, and the Gazette, accusing him of having entertained Attorney Williams of the Oregon Short Line, and of being an intimate friend of that gentleman, are wholly and totally in error. He says Attorney Williams didn't remain more than five minutes. So there.

The following receipt is taken from the Reese River Reveille, and is alleged to be the correct ingredients for charcoal puffs.

One-half cup of powdered charcoal, two teaspoonsful of sweet oil. Strain through white pea de soie and add one pinch of snuff. Fry in silver pan set with rubies and serve hot sprinkled with powdered borax. Garnish with pea coal. What the dickens are the rubies for?

"Larry Adams has skipped out," says the Reese River Reveille. Two men was indicted by the last grand jury on the charge of forgery and his trial was to come up at the next term of court. He was out on $500 bail, George Watt being his bondsman, and he used one of Mr. Watt's horses to make his escape, but is likely to be apprehended. He will probably come back of his own accord if he remembers any other little thing Mr. Watt has that strikes his fancy.

NEWS OF THE STATE

Southern Knights Celebrate

Goldfield and Tonopah councils, Knights of Columbus, will unite in celebrating Columbus day by a joint installation service in Goldfield. Three degrees will be conferred and after the secret work of the order is dispatched the knights will be entertained with a banquet. Carpenters' hall and the basement dining room has been engaged for the occasion, and all members may be assured that the degree work will be equal to the best. The ladies of the local knights will dispense the cheer that will brush away any hard feeling that may linger as a sequel to the edgings up stairs.—Tonopah Bonanza.

Editors Meet

President McCrany of the Nevada Editorial Association arrived here yesterday from Manhattan, accompanied by his wife. The convention of the association will be held in the rooms of the Mizpah Club today, which has been kindly placed at their disposal by Mr. Crocker, acting in the absence of President Dunlap.

Just how many of the members of the association will be here is not known at present, but Southern Nevada is certain to be well represented. There are a number of important matters coming up before the meeting, important not only to the members of the association, but to the entire State as well.

The Mizpah Club will be the headquarters of the editors during their stay in town.—Tonopah Bonanza.

HENRY HOLLY IS GIVEN 18 MONTHS

The last chapter in the history of Henry Howard Holly's short but eventful career of wrongdoing was written yesterday when Judge Orr pronounced his sentence for embezzling $700 of Wells-Fargo Express Company's money in a vain attempt to recoup losses sustained in gambling resulting in the inevitable moral and more, his final detection, flight, capture in Detroit and return to the scene of his crime.

Holly will be confined in the Carson penitentiary for 18 months, and in imposing sentence Judge Orr expressed the hope that the lesson thus impressed upon his mind would be a salutary one, and that he would make use of his abilities in such a way as to remove the stigma his early misdeeds had brought upon an honored name.

Attorney William Woodburn Jr., who was Holly's counsel, made an eloquent plea for mercy toward his client, pointing out the fact that the young man had not habitually criminal in his inclinations and that his temptation and fall was due more to carelessness of habits and lack of due consideration than from a deliberate willful criminal intent.

came to California in 1860 via the Horn, and after tempting fortune with varying success on the gold coast during two years, he came to Nevada, one year after the admission of the State to the Union, and settled at Washoe, where he remained till after the close of the war, when he came with his family to the old Huffaker place, then a stage station on the great overland route, remaining in charge of that place till the following year, when he came to Glendale, purchasing the old Mary Wall ranch.

An Early Boniface Here
Later the family came to Reno, where its head went into the hotel business, running the old Pollard house, which stood about opposite the present depot, and was considered the principal hotel of the town. It was later destroyed by fire, and likewise the old Coats Tavern, and one other house, in which the family conducted a hotel business, all succumbing to the flames.

The name of Coats is so closely interwoven with the early history of Reno, that it is surprising that the State history contains no mention of it.

Among other things accomplished by the man who ended his life upon the lonely mound in the Hillside cemetery yesterday, was the grinding of the first grist of flour to come from a Reno mill, long before the days of the present roller process, and there are middle-aged men here now who tell of seeing him sharpen the ridges in the old millstones of the first mill built here by the Riverside company.

A sister, brother, daughter and two sons survive him, of whom Mrs. Ida Malthy, the sister, and K. J. Coats, a son, reside in Reno, and the brother, who is a railroad contractor, lives in Pennsylvania, and the other son, Schuler, is with him.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Charles R. Reeves of White Pine was in Reno yesterday on his way to Carson. Reeves was in attendance at the recent National Irrigation Congress in Sacramento. In the committee of publicity of that body he represents Nevada, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming and will have in his hands the "press agency" for advertising the possibilities of irrigation in the States named.

R. D. Pritchett, broker of A. J. Pritchett of Olinghouse Canyon, has arrived from Sitka, Alaska, where he was employed with W. N. Concanon on the wireless telegraph station.

Charles W. Fletcher, of Atchison, Kan., is visiting his brother, A. G. Fletcher, cashier of the Bank of Nevada. The two brothers will visit Virginia City and other points together.

Peter Jensen, the wealthy Renoite, has returned with his family from a year's sojourn in Europe. His health has much improved.

Emory Johnson, the well-known stock raiser of Elko county, is spending a few days in Reno attending the races.

Mrs. M. G. Crane returned from Camptonville, Cal., after a month's visit yesterday.

Booth M. Malone of Goldfield is at the Overland.

MISS BIGGART TO SPEAK

Miss Mabelle Biggart of New York City, known throughout the English-speaking world as "Dinah, the Preacher," has consented to give her famous lecture-sermon on "Simon, the Cross-bearer" at the Congregational church on Sunday evening. Miss Biggart has spoken to great congregations in the leading churches of the country and undoubtedly will be greeted by a large attendance on Sunday evening. Next Thursday evening Miss Biggart will give an interpretative dramatization of "Adam Bede" in the auditorium of the Congregational church. Miss Biggart's work has received great praise from such men as Rev. F. B. Meyer and R. J. Campbell of London, and Charles M. Sheldon, the author of "In His Steps."

CATARRH IS CURABLE

Successful Experiments in Abating and Curing This Disease

Catarrh is an entirely unnecessary disease and should not be tolerated for a single day now that Hyomei is so generally known and has made so many cures in Reno and other towns.

Until comparatively recent times catarrh was thought to be a blood disease and stomach dosing the only treatment. Modern science finally disproved this idea of the cause of catarrh, and found that it was a germ disease and, after many experiments, the remedy was decided to be Hyomei.

Hyomei medicates the air you breathe; it kills the catarrhal germs; it heals the smarting and raw membranes of the passages in the nose and throat; it cures all catarrhal troubles.

As there is life and health in the air in the mountain-tops where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams, so there is life and health in breathing Hyomei. There is no need of suffering from catarrh if the simple and natural treatment of Hyomei is used.

So sure is this prescription to cure even the worst cases of catarrh, that The Cann Drug Co., sell it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

RENO DAY AT THE STATE FAIR DREW A GREAT CROWD AND WAS A SUCCESS

Governor Sparks Had Splendid Showing of Blue Blood Animals From His Farm

Yesterday was an unusually eventful day at the Fair Grounds, Reno particularly observing a holiday with the banks closed, as well as all the offices in the Court House, except the sheriff's.

The forenoon livestock parade was almost as showy as Dan Rice's circus pageant when it came to horses. The animals seemed to know they were out to be seen and walked their most graceful, the stallions particularly proud of the gay ribbons woven into their manes and tail. Governor Sparks' Rocky Mountain goat, the drum major of the Alamo exhibit lead the procession as dignified as a flock leader.

Live Stock Parade

Governor Sparks in his exhibit had eleven head of his white-faced Hereford beauties from his famous Alamo herd led by the grand old Sire Perfection II. He carried the highest honors of the show ring from the Middle West to the Pacific Coast. Here he carried off the blue ribbon and grand champion prize. Following was Mr. Perfection, a worthy 2-year-old son of Perfection II. He was adorned with the blue ribbon. In the yearling bull class calves were two youngsters Carol Alamo and Caesar Alamo Card who as sound and plump as a Berkshire hog. In the cow class two beautiful matrons of this famous breed walked proudly. Charlie Alamo, who has campaigned in the Pacific Coast circuit of fairs with her huge lord, Perfection II from Sacramento to Portland, Oregon and on to Boise, Idaho she got the blue over her younger opponent Dawn Alamo II.

Governor Sparks' band of Shetland ponies were the delight of the children.

The dairy cattle herd of the University of Nevada experimental farm, department of husbandry, came in for a large share of admiration.

In the morning driving contest Miss Little was awarded the prize for pacing, single, driving. Bob Grimmer got a ribbon for gentleman's driving team and Mrs. Labrigan a ribbon for trotting driving. Mrs. Labrigan's stunt afforded much amusement. She is an expert horsewoman with a very creditable record in the saddle at Carson. Yesterday a silver dollar was placed upon the saddle of her mount and she sat upon it. She undertook to ride around the track without losing the dollar. Her mount started away at breakneck speed and then swerved. It was a "green" animal and two or three times started back and was very capricious. She finally brought up under the wire and the silver dollar was produced, from where it had been placed, amid great applause.

The Races

There were five good races in the afternoon. In the first Jockey Ross was fined $10 for foul riding and his mount, Schottische, the favorite in the betting, set back from second place, it being given to Paul the First. It was a running race of 6 furlongs. The time 1.15 was declared by the Judges to have never been broken.

In the second running race, Sadie Burch the favorite took the lead right after leaving the starting post and kept it to the wire.

The fourth race proved a surprise to the wage placers. There were five horses and all came in nearly abreast but Maxetta won easily. She was in the field and the Paris mutuals paid $6 for $2.

The result of yesterday's races are as follows:

First Race—Six furlongs, running, purse $175. Elba won, Paul the First second, Cash Day, Schottische also ran. Time 1.15.

Second Race—Running, 4 1/2 furlongs, purse $175. Sadie Burch won, Wonder second, Baldy third. Time 57 1-5.

Third Race—Trotting, best two in three, one mile, purse $250. Romulus won. Bill Dugan second, Blanche Calso ran. Time 2:22 1/2. Second heat same as first, in order of horses and time.

Fourth Race—Five furlongs, running, selling, purse $200. Maxetta won, Chestnut second, Yosan third. Arrowmaker and Junalong also ran. Time 1:02 2-5.

Fifth Race—Half mile, free for all, purses $50 and $25 for saddle horses never run for money before. Squirrel won, Joe, Snookey and Spider also ran. Time 55.

The Exhibits

Pavilion Superintendent Charles F. Sadler was more than pleased with the attendance yesterday. Reno Day at the State Fair, the exhibits having come in now for their full share of the visitors' attention, and it is extremely gratifying to Sadler, as many obstacles had to be overcome to fill the space. He believes the present success augurs a greater for the next annual State Fair.

Premiums have been awarded in the departments of livestock, manufactures and mechanical arts, agriculture, garden and farm produce, dairy products and in ladies' finery and needle work.

No awards were made in agriculture to the University Experimental Station, the Nevada Hospital for Mental Diseases, nor the Lincoln County Experimental Station. The reason therefor as given by Manager of Exhibits P. H. Mulcahy, is that it is the policy of the association to grant no premiums or prizes to the state institutions. The displays by the three institutions named are, however, each extensive ones and of special interest.

The Lincoln County Experimental Station, in the extreme southeastern part of the State, has a unique climate for its work, and hence it exhibits such specimens as almonds, peanuts, cotton pomegranate and sugar beets. The successful culture of such products means much to South-eastern Nevada.

An elaborate display of cereals is made by the University Experimental Station. Included are various wheats and Siberian and Australian oats, barley (both bearded and beardless), and buckwheat (also peas, flax seed, hemp, sorghum, etc.

The Nevada Hospital's is in the nature of a bounteous display of all manner of kitchen vegetables.

Showing diversity in minerals other than of a metallic base is that display of the Overland Banking Realty Company. It includes sulphur, gypsum, gypsite, asbestos, corundum, nitre, diatomaceous earths, coal, oil shales, etc.

The guessing contests in the pavilion are proving popular diversions. Al Pepe has one going at the tasteful booth of the Paraffine Paint Company. He has a glass jar full of nails, screws and metal caps, and it is up to the visitor to guess how many pieces are in the jar.

The Overland Banking and Realty Company have two jars filled with conyx pebbles and gold nuggets. The guessing is free to all, and the successful guesser will be given a $200 lot.

A musical entertainment was given all the afternoon by the Reno State Journal's contest booth to appreciative audiences.

One exhibit that was especially attractive was the log cabin quilt, the work of a lady 87 years old. It is of many pieces and of as many colors as Jacob's coat.

Contributed by Jake Bauman is a piece of pine timbering from the Con. Virginia mine, placed there 25 years ago. The timber has been compressed down by the fearful weight to 2 1-2 inches. It is as hard as ebony.

Two important sales of livestock were made yesterday. The Nevada Hospital bought the Holstein Friesian bull Patrick Henry, aged one year, from the University of Nevada.

Joe Maazen bought a short horn bull calf from Governor Sparks for $500.

The Right Sort of Clothes For Fall

AN ABSOLUTELY CORRECT INTERPRETATION OF THE REIGNING STYLES IN MEN'S AND YOUNG MEN'S WEARING APPAREL

With an unusual degree of pleasure we now announce to men of discriminating taste—men of ideas and ideals in dress—that the styles and fabrics in Men's Wear, approved by Fashion for Fall and Winter, 1907 and 1908, are now ready for their most critical inspection, and with a pardonable degree of pride we proclaim it our best and largest showing.

WALL STREET IS SLOWING DOWN

Large Blocks of Stocks Borrowed for Delivery Are Now Returned and Market Quiet

NEW YORK BONDS IN DEMAND

Conditions in the Metal Trade in London and New York; Price of Silver

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The stock market became very quiet today. Reports from brokers of the return of large blocks of stocks which had been borrowed for delivery afforded a clue to one reason for the slowing down of the buying in the extent of the covering of short contracts, which has been done. With the perception that buying of this character was largely responsible for the advance which has occurred in prices, operators were disinclined to enter on comments on the long side of the market.

Coming Bank Statements

Estimates of the week's currency movement pointed again to a gain by the banks, the figures indicating between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 as the amount of the increase. As the forecasts of the bank statement have indicated a cash gain which the actual statement in turn failed to confirm, there was some hesitation today in operating in stocks to discount a favorable bank statement. The call loan market however, showed returning ease.

Foreign Trade

The foreign trade statement for August attracted attention by reason of the small balance of excess value of export over imports for the month. This amounted to but $1,333,352 compared with $24,104,453 in August of 1906. Not only was there a falling off of upwards of $2,000,000 in value of exports, but value of imports has risen more than $20,000,000 over those for August last year.

The present movement of grain for export trade, however, is heavy and reports were current in the grain markets of some sensational buying of futures.

New York Bonds

It is asserted also that foreign demand for the New York City bonds is a pronounced factor in the active market that has sprung up for the securities dealt in "when issued." Their continued advance was the feature of the bond market today, the 50-year issue rising to $106 5-8 compared with an average to subscribers of about 102. The 10-year issue also became active today, advancing to 102 3-4 compared with an issue price below 101. This movement is of pronounced tonic effect on the whole market. The late relaxation in the

THE NEWS OF SPARKS

NEGROES WILL HAVE HEARING NEXT MONDAY

Next Monday morning at 10 o'clock the three negroes who were arrested at the State Fair grounds Thursday afternoon by Captain Cadle, suspected of being the men who robbed the Japanese Industrial Association of this city, will have their preliminary examination.

The negroes gave their names to Judge Pollock as Christopher Wood-sides, William Dixon and Peter Casey. Wood-sides is suspected of doing the shooting which nearly resulted in the death of one Japanese.

The Japanese who engaged in the gun fight with the robbers on the night of the robbery have positively identified the negroes as the men who did the shooting and committed the robbery. It is their opinion that Wood-sides is the man who did the shooting.

The negroes are being held in the city jail pending their trial. Their capture was effected by Captain Cadle of the Reno police, who turned them over to Constable Mulay of Sparks.
